CHARLES
R. KNIGHT

Advance Praise

“Knight’s study will become the standard reference work on Lee’s daily wartime experiences.”

— R. E. L. Krick, author of Staff Officers in Gray

“Charles R. Knight’s From Arlington to Appomattox: Robert E. Lee’s Civil War Day by Day is a staggering work of scholarship based upon meticulous research. The entries are detailed, illuminating, and well-written. Nuggets of information abound and will please the most avid students of those crucial four years of Lee’s life.”

— Jeffrey D. Wert, author of A Glorious Army: Robert E. Lee’s Triumph, 1862-1863

“I have reviewed this in some detail, and my first impression is that it is brilliant. The level of detail and research is quite impressive, and it shows. The campaigns and battles are presented in enough detail for people to understand, without getting bogged down in the details. The monthly headings also help. I especially like how Knight brings forward the administrative detail. This day-by-day look really gives one a sense of what it took to both lead and run an army in the Civil War. Congratulations, this is just superb.”

— Chris Kolakowski, author of The Virginia Campaigns, March-August 1862

“Charlie Knight’s From Arlington to Appomattox: Robert E. Lee’s Civil War Day by Day is a pleasure to read, and I learned many things from just perusing it. I think the whole project is brilliant. . . . I got lost in all of the minute details (which I love).”

— Michael C. Hardy, award-winning author of General Lee’s Immortals: The Battles and Campaigns of the Branch-Lane Brigade in the Army of Northern Virginia, 1861-1865

“This is great. The footnotes are very Freeman-esque—packed full of information.”

— Robert Orrison, co-author of To Hazard All: A Guide to the Maryland Campaign, 1862

About the Author:
